WHAT I THINK OF THE SANGUINIST :

What is to follow please don't attribute to the Sanguinist Staff. They have no part in this. Last week they asked that I make them a contribution. Being one of the old boys in Drexel, my special experience, they figured, should tie in very nicely with a guest column for the Prom issue of their bulletin. Herewith, then, it is.

St. Joe needs the Sanguinist. I know that well. Some boys don't listen to the Sunday Catholic Hour. Some more go into a blue flunk during the Sunday sermons. A lot more can't break loose from their feathers early enough in the morning to make the 6:45 Mass. The Sanguinist comes sliding under your door every Saturday night. Every St. Joe man needs to read it to plug up the little ~~holes~~ in his religious routine. Of course, it gets biting now and then. But measure for measure, you've got to hand a lot to the Sanguinist. We need it.

WHAT I THINK OF MODERN DIRT :

Deny this if you will, gentlemen, but guys that habitually absorb these flesh-cartoon mags -- look at them --they gradually get a dull, thick, vapid look about them. That stuff makes the mind grow dull-- it isn't sharp enough, and by Heaven it isn't near good enough. You guys that read dirty stuff, try a whirl at the Reader's Digest, just once. You never conquer anything in this world without a little struggle against something --- ignorance, laziness, fatigue. Resign yourself to this fact!

Then there is the item of out-house language. If you want to be a stevedore all your life, go ahead, talk like one. While you're training here for life, you might as well watch your speech by the same token. Some day, guy, you'll get out into a place where impressions count. Don't be at a loss for words simply because during your college days half your spoken utterances consisted of "#(%,"@₄)/," with an occasional "#-&($," just for a colorful effect. Dirty talk is another drain on the mind. It makes a perfect ass out of you, not a tough guy like you think. Your best girl and your mother never hear you that way. Be yourself always!

IN CASE YOU LOST A STUD :

Now then, this issue should reach you as you wrestle with a stiff collar. This is Prom night, you know-- one of those gay evenings when St. Joe's spirit asserts itself.

There has never been a bad St. Joe Prom. Help keep it that way. Later tonight don't be afraid to introduce your girl to your major prof. It'll surprise him pleasantly. Don't hog all the dances-- remember your roommate, anyway. Above all, enjoy the whole thing, from Art Kassel right on down to "getting in for the check".

WEDNESDAY SOLEMN FEAST OF PATRONAGE OF ST. JOSEPH -- GOLDEN JUBILEE SERVICE
In thanksgiving every student should attend Holy Mass and receive Holy Communion, praying that God Bless St. Joseph's College .

FRIDAY OF THIS WEEK IS THE FIRST FRIDAY  REMEMBER THE SACRED HEART

NEWS DIGEST

VATICAN CITY. Granting an audience to university students of the Italian Catholic Action Societies, the Holy Father voiced a plea for charity towards the vanquished and for brotherly love in these days of war.

His Holiness said in part: "True valor requires that the victors should shew charity towards the vanquished. The world does not need violence, but love; not vileness, but humility. All men, both strong and weak, are brothers."

Washington, D.C. The Most Rev. John F. Noll, 66-year-old Bishop of Ft. Wayne, has been named assistant at the Pontifical Throne. Bishop Noll is one of the best known figures in the American Hierarchy and has done important work for the Bishops' program in the U.S.

CINCINNATI, Ohio. The revised Baltimore catechism, work on which has been underway for more than five years, will be ready for publication in the near future. The Apostolic Delegation in Washington, through the Most Rev. Amleto Cicognani, has sent to the Episcopal Committee on the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine the revised text which the Sacred Congregation of the Council has carefully examined through a special committee appointed for that purpose.

Dearly beloved, Christ suffered for us leaving you an example that you should follow His steps. Who did no sin, neither was guile found in His mouth. Who when he was reviled, did not revile; when he suffered, He threatened not, but delivered Himself to him that judged Him unjustly: Who His own self bore our sins in His body upon the tree. -- Sunday Epistle
